Definitions

CPI: Consumer Price Index is an index of prices “paid by urban consumers for a representative basket of goods and services.”<sup>1</sup> It is also used for converting prices from one year to another to account for price fluctuation.

Economic Aid: Although not specifically listed as a category in the 1961 Foreign Assistance Act, the USAID Greenbook notes that economic aid covers all assistance provided by, “the following funding categories: United States Agency for International Development (USAID) and Predecessor, Department of Agriculture, Department of State and Other Economic Assistance.”<sup>2</sup>

Military Aid: Aid funding authorized by the 1961 Foreign Assistance Act, §503:

The President is authorized to furnish military assistance, on such terms and conditions as he may determine, to any friendly country or international organization, the assisting of which the President finds will strengthen the security of the United States and promote world peace and which is otherwise eligible to receive such assistance, by --

(1) acquiring from any source and providing (by loan or grant) any defense article or defense service;

(2) assigning or detailing members of the Armed Forces of the United States and other personnel of the Department of Defense to perform duties of a non-combatant nature; or

(3) transferring such of the funds appropriated or otherwise made available under this chapter as the President may determine for assistance to a recipient country, to the account in which funds for the procurement of defense articles and defense services under section 21 and section 22 of the Arms Export Control Act have been deposited for such recipient, to be merged with such deposited funds, and to be used solely to meet obligations of the recipient for payment for sales under that Act. Sales which are wholly paid from funds transferred under paragraph (3) or from funds made available on a non-repayable basis under section 23 of the Arms Export Control Act shall be priced to exclude the cost of salaries of members of the Armed Forces of the United States (other than the Coast Guard).<sup>3</sup>

Total Foreign Assistance: The sum of economic aid and military aid, as defined by the USAID Greenbook.<sup>4</sup>

TQ: “The three-month period--July 1 through September 30, 1976--between fiscal year 1976 and fiscal year 1977. At that time, the fiscal year definition shifted from July 1-June 30 to October 1-September 30.”<sup>5</sup>

Methodology

Calculating Real Dollar Values

For the tables of US Defense Outlays, 1970 – 2012, US Foreign Assistance, 1970 – 2012, and US Economic and Military Aid, 1970 – 2012, the values retrieved from the USAID Greenbook database were initially recorded in each year's dollar values, i.e. in historical dollars. In order to convert from historical to current dollars, a given year's consumer price index was used. The consumer price index (CPI) is an index of prices "paid by urban consumers for a representative basket of goods and services."<sup>6</sup> It is also used in a method for converting between price levels in different years, to account for price fluctuation. In this document, the values listed above were converted to 2012 dollars by multiplying a value for a given year's by a ratio of that year's CPI and 2012's CPI (229.6). The following is a table of CPI values, as collected by the Bureau of Labor Statistics<sup>7</sup>:

Year	CPI	Year	CPI	Year	CPI	Year	CPI
1970	38.8	1981	90.9	1992	140.3	2003	184
1971	40.5	1982	96.5	1993	144.5	2004	188.9
1972	41.8	1983	99.6	1994	148.2	2005	195.3
1973	44.4	1984	103.9	1995	152.4	2006	201.6
1974	49.3	1985	107.6	1996	156.9	2007	207.3
1975	53.8	1986	109.6	1997	160.5	2008	215.3
1976	56.9	1987	113.6	1998	163	2009	214.5
1977	60.6	1988	118.3	1999	166.6	2010	218.1
1978	65.2	1989	124	2000	172.2	2011	224.9
1979	72.6	1990	130.7	2001	177.1	2012	229.6
1980	82.4	1991	136.2	2002	179.9

In order to accurately compare the change from year to year, said dollar values needed to be converted to current dollar value. US Defense Outlays, 1970 – 2012, and US Foreign Assistance, 1970 – 2012, the GDP (gross domestic product) were converted to current dollars. For the table of US Defense Outlays, 1970 – 2012, gross defense spending was also converted to current dollars. For the table of Economic and Military Aid, 1970 – 2012, the gross quantities spent on economic and military aid, respectively, were converted to current dollars. The sum of these two amounts was converted to current dollars for the US Foreign Assistance, 1970 – 2012, table.

Calculating Foreign Aid

The real dollar value for US foreign assistance (pg. 5) for each year was calculated by summing the historical dollar value for economic aid and military aid (pg. 6), then converting that historical dollar value to current dollars (as detailed above).

Organizing the Table of Top 25 Economic/Military Aid Recipients

The table of top 25 economic/military aid recipients is organized both by average receipts and by fiscal year. The overall ranking (and ordering of the table) was determined by taking the average of the sums of economic/military aid received between 1970 and 2012.

US Economic/Military Aid by Country

The tables of comprehensive statistics on economic and military aid by country lists values for the average, minimum, and maximum amount of aid given to a country, as well as the number of years a country has been receiving aid. Each statistic was tabulated in 2011 dollar values, as calculated by USAID.

The Use of the USAID Greenbook

The United States Agency for International Development (USAID) is required by the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, Ch. 2, §634:

In order that the Congress and the American people may be better and more currently informed regarding American foreign policy and the effectiveness of assistance provided by the United States Government to other countries and to international organizations,... prepare and transmit to the Congress, no later than February 1 of each year, as a part of the annual presentation materials for foreign assistance, a report as described in this subsection.<sup>8</sup>

This comes in the form of the USAID Greenbook, which aggregates and presents all data from all agencies which provide foreign assistance. The Greenbook contains records going back to 1946, and is, a comprehensive and coordinated review of all United States policies and programs having a major impact on the development of developing countries, including but not limited to bilateral and multilateral assistance, trade, debt, employment, food, energy, technology, population, oceans, environment, human settlements, natural resources, and participation in international agencies concerned with development.<sup>9</sup>
